SECOND SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME
 REFLECTIONS ON TODAY'S READINGS:

FOCUS: By virtue of our baptism, we have been called to be servants for the Father's mission. As followers of Jesus, we are duty-bound to bring the good news of salvation to a world very much in need of saving. As disciples of the one true God, we must find our voice and speak his holy truth even when it may be inconvenient or unwanted.

LITURGY OF THE WORD: In the first reading, God reminds Isaiah that Israel is the Lord's servant. Paul greets the Church of Corinth, announcing he has been called to be an Apostle. In the Gospel, John announces Jesus as the Lamb of God.

Second Sunday in Ordinary Time

As a Church, we now move into Ordinary Time. "Ordinary" comes from the Latin root for "order," which is why we line the Sundays up on the calendar and count them—with "ordinal" numbers—one by one. The orderly way we proceed through the liturgical year reminds us that our faith offers a strategic goal for our lives:

eternal happiness with God, who is love. Today's readings share stories of believers who order their daily activities toward the goal of sharing God's love. Isaiah embraces his role as God's servant and works to bring glory not only to Israel, but to the entire world. In a similar way, Saint Paul identifies himself as Christ's witness in the world and reminds the Corinthians of their life goal: "to be holy." The Gospel shows us John the Baptist, servant and witness, attentive to God's loving orders, the divine plan for salvation.

TOO LITTLE: Today's first reading reveals the Lord's super-sized heart. "It is too little," according to God, to protect and guide only the tribes of Jacob. The enormity of God's love cannot limit itself to one nation; divine love overflows, spilling liberally over all people everywhere. Isaiah, prophet of the long-suffering Israelites, might have been surprised to hear that the salvation of his people is not enough for God. But God always wants more than what we want. God's passion outstrips all of our deepest desires. We are merely creatures. Compared to the hugeness of our Creator's designs, we will always want too little, have too little, know too little, love too little. This littleness frustrates us throughout life. But exactly when we admit our littleness, we make room for Christ.

NEVER TOO LATE: John the Baptist models for us the grace of littleness. Twice in today's Gospel reading, John admits, "I did not know." Even though John has ordered his entire life toward the goal of preparing the world for the Messiah, he does not, on his own, recognize Christ when he sees him. The Gospel insists John "did not know" Jesus; in his humility, John relies entirely on God for direction. John waits and waits—baptizing, praying, preaching—until, finally, the Holy Spirit reveals the Messiah. John had waited his whole life for this confirmation from the Spirit. God's chosen people, the Israelites, had waited much, much longer. Surely many wondered if God would ever send the Messiah as promised. But God is never late. In our littleness, we cannot see the arc of all human history with God's clarity and love. Each of us aches deeply for some good thing: a cure, a resolution, a rest, a fair break. When we are made to wait for what seems obviously beneficial, we sometimes wonder if God is really as all-powerful and all-loving as people say. Today's readings invite us to trust.

Fact of Life

Tonio Tavares De Mello never thought his life would be what it is today, but he says he is happy to live the life God has given him. In 1990, after learning of the high rate of neglect and abandonment of disabled children, De Mello began the process of saving the most vulnerable among us. He built a Catholic community called Jesus Menino (Baby Jesus) in order to care for them. Over the years, his calling has grown and he has adopted 42 disabled children and opened three communities in Brazil and Portugal where 117 disabled adults live and learn. www.liveaction.org

Did You Know?

Discussing dating with your teenager

If you're thinking about letting your teenager date, start by having a conversation about expectations – your teen's, and yours – talk, too, about how values are to be upheld in every relationship. These conversations will arm your child with important moral checkpoints and safety information. Consider talking about your own experiences and choices. Talk about bad choices, and their consequences. For more conversation topics, get a copy of the VIRTUS® article "Talking with your Teen about Dating Safety" at <http://www.la-archdiocese.org/org/protecting/Pages/VIRTUS-Current-Online-Articles.aspx>.

Annual Donation Statement Information

In January, the parish office will be sending donation statements to those who donated $100 or more during 2019. IRS rules require a written acknowledgement only for individual gifts of $250 or more, but the statements are a reminder to claim the deduction for those who itemize. Donations will be included in your annual donation statement only if they are delivered via the collection basket or to the Parish Office by December 31, or if postmarked on or before December 31. Donations will otherwise be credited to 2020 contributions. If you have a record of contributions not shown in your statement, please contact the parish office at 310-670-2243.

Faith for Kids

Rising very early before dawn, He left and went off to a deserted place, where He prayed.

— Mark 1:35

It feels good to be with friends - playing sports or doing fun things. But sometimes you might need to be alone and quiet for a while. Maybe there's a problem you want to think about, or maybe you want to thank God for helping you when you needed it. Jesus felt the need for quiet time too. He prayed to know His Father's will, and He spent time thanking Him for His love. Quiet, prayerful moments brought joy to Jesus. They can bring us joy too.

Lord, let me share in your joy.
