GIFTS

In today's readings, we discover that material wealth alone does not keep us from discipleship. We will see that there are other gifts more important than material wealth, but even so, it is how we use our gifts that matters most.

Today's scriptures point to the value of the gifts of wisdom, trusting in God, and letting our actions reflect the love of God from within. It is not gold that causes us to fall, but rather the desire for gold above all other things. From the readings in Wisdom and Hebrews, we find the source of God's gifts in our lives. Wisdom is more valuable than worldly possessions. In Hebrews, we are challenged to look at our own values and admit honestly what controls our lives.

FACT OF LIFE

These three families say 'thank you' to pro-life sidewalk counselors

The work of pro-life sidewalk counselors cannot be overstated. Their presence outside of abortion facilities, their prayers, and their hands-on approach to encountering abortion-minded mothers and putting them in touch with alternatives have changed many minds over the years and saved the lives of babies all over the world. Here are just three stories that demonstrate how sidewalk counselors have made a difference in the lives of families.

Kiesy and Jocelyn

A couple's encounter with sidewalk counselors outside the Lovejoy Surgical Center in Portland, Oregon, saved the life of baby Sebastian. Kiesy and Jocelyn Hernandez had driven over 400 miles to have an abortion. On their way into the facility, they met the counselors who had been standing outside and praying. The couple told the counselors they were scared, but that they ultimately wanted to keep their baby. Still, Jocelyn felt too young to raise a child and feared Kiesy could not provide for him. The counselors listened to her concerns. They helped her feel stronger, she said, while local pro-lifers helped the couple with the baby's physical needs. Later that year, the couple wed, and their baby, Sebastian, was born.

Theresa

Theresa was homeless and out of work in the UK when she discovered that she was pregnant. She felt her circumstances meant she had no choices other than to abort her baby, something she desperately did not want, and she wept as she approached the Marie Stopes abortion business. Someone outside the facility asked why she was crying. The counselor talked with Theresa and reassured her that she did not need to have an abortion, telling her that support and alternatives were available. When no one inside the abortion facility showed the same concern for her anxieties, Theresa returned to the sidewalk counselor who put her in touch with the Good Counsel Network, an organization dedicated to helping women facing unplanned pregnancies. At Good Counsel, Theresa's concerns were heard. The organization offered her accommodations and helped with her pressing needs. "They said they were going to help and just talked with me. They asked me why I wanted to abort the baby and I told them about my conditions; that I didn't have a house, I didn't have work, that I couldn't cope. They offered me accommodation, and they were really supportive. They started giving me food vouchers and money for the baby. Almost all the baby's clothes and what I'm using for my baby they gave it to me. I don't know where I would be if they weren't there," she said.

Noe

A couple seeking an abortion outside of Aurora, Illinois, was surprised by the number of people praying outside the local Planned Parenthood. The husband explained to Pro Life Action League that he and his wife had been considering an abortion, but the presence of sidewalk counselors and others outside the facility made them pause and consider what they were doing. "God put you guys in front of us because He told us — we were parked right there and we were just staring over here and we were just thinking about it, thinking about, thinking about it and we were just looking at the baby's pictures [images of abortion victims] like, we can't do that. But I thank all you guys for being out here," he said. "I thank you guys so much, man, because honestly, you guys changed our mind. I feel like if you guys weren't here that day we probably would have stepped in there."

The care and compassion pro-life sidewalk counselors show to women considering abortion have saved lives. Abortion facilities, concerned with their bottom line, have worked tirelessly to keep this ministry, and any abortion alternative, away from their bottom line. ## KIDS' CORNER

BUT A SAMARITAN TRAVELER WHO CAME UPON HIM WAS MOVED WITH COMPASSION AT THE SIGHT.

LUKE 10:33

Like the Good Samaritan, St. Francis of Assisi was "moved with compassion at the sight" of everything God created because he saw God in all of it. So Francis didn't look at people and think of reasons he couldn't serve them. He only thought of how he could serve God in them. It's said that when he met a leper begging on the side of the road, he didn't avoid him as others did. Instead, Francis hugged the man and gave him some money to help him. Francis saw that everything was connected—through God who created everything. He called the sun his brother and the moon his sister. All God's creation gave praise to God and served God.

FAITH @ HOME

In today's Gospel, we hear Jesus tell the young rich man, "Go, sell what you have, and give to the poor and you will have treasure in heaven; then come, follow me."

Pray with this passage today:

Adults and Teens: What are you in search of at this moment in your life? Are your possessions keeping you from giving your whole heart to Jesus? What might Jesus be calling you to give up at this time to follow him more deeply?

Small children: What are some possessions or talents that God has given you? How do these possessions or talents make you feel?

End this time of prayer, by offering up to Jesus what you are feeling and for what you might need to follow Him more deeply.

Talk about this passage today:

Have a conversation as a household/family or with friends.

Adults: Why might you feel the need to accumulate possessions? How can you live more sustainably and opt for caring for the poor? How can you model what Jesus is calling you to do to those around you community, children, neighbors? What might be the first step today to give yourself to Jesus more fully?

Teens: Why is it difficult for us to give away things in order to follow Jesus more fully? What might be the first step today to give yourself to Jesus today?

Small Children: What are some ways you can use your possessions or talents to help others?

DID YOU KNOW?

What to do before administering baby or child first-aid

When a child or baby is experiencing a medical crisis, it is important to provide care and seek help as quickly as possible. But because their bodies are still forming, more delicate, and more compact than an adult's, delivering child or baby first aid is different than administering care to an adult. Please review the following steps provided by the American Red Cross, <https://www.redcross.org/take-a-class/first-aid/performing-first-aid/child-baby-first-aid>.

SCHOOL STUDENT NON DISCRIMINATION POLICY

The school, mindful of its mission to be a witness to the love of Christ for all, admits students regardless of race, color, national origin, and/or ethnic origin to all rights, privileges, programs, and activities generally accorded or made available to students at the school.

The school does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, disability, medical condition, sex, or national and/or ethnic origin in the administration of educational policies and practices, scholarship programs, and athletic and other school-administered programs, although certain athletic leagues and other programs may limit participation and some archdiocesan schools operate as single-sex schools.

While the school does not discriminate against students with special needs, a full range of services may not always be available to them. Decisions concerning the admission and continued enrollment of a student in the school are based upon the student's emotional, academic, and physical abilities and the resources available to the school in meeting the student's needs.

This Catholic Elementary School publishes the above policy in the staff and parent/student handbooks, public relations/recruitment brochures and in other publications such as the parish bulletin and school newspaper. The school also publishes applicable grievance procedures in the staff and parent/student handbooks.
